In addition to regular issues, Taste of the South offers special-issue publications, including Homestyle Casseroles, Southern Breakfasts, Best Southern Recipes, Fall Comfort Food, Holiday Baking, Christmas Cookbook, and Southern Breads.

TASTE OF THE SOUTH'S MAIN FOCUS is to bring classic Southern foods to the modern supper table. Through our recipes and editorial content, we hope to inspire people to share meals and food-centric experiences with friends and family and be able to do so with ease. Our readers often cite our magazine as one of their favorites to find the food they grew up on while also learning something new.

In 2021, we're staying true to tradition while also exploring what the future of Southern food holds. Starting the year with a focus on comfort food, our January/February issue offers classic dishes like chicken and dumplings and buttermilk biscuits while exploring who and what makes the South the unique culinary region that it is. Our March/April issue and the start of spring brings fresh sweet rolls, seasonally focused meals with carrots and spring greens, and a look at a group of women who are moving Southern food forward. As we enter the summer months, we bring two issues packed with recipes that celebrate an abundant harvest—from summer pies and cobblers to fried green tomatoes to watermelon, peaches, and tomatoes. Our July/August issue is bringing back our much-anticipated Taste 50 awards where we feature our favorite products, people, and trends in Southern food. As we wrap up the year, we take a trip to the Appalachian Mountains for a fall festival, explore Holiday Traditions from around the South, and fill our tables with the comfort meals that cold weather implores in three recipe-packed issues.

In each issue, you'll find our tried-and-true departments like Cast Iron Favorites, At the Table, Foodways, Cooking Class, and Southern Staples. One of our most popular features is New Ways where we explore a traditional or classic Southern dish and reinterpret those ingredients and flavors into something just as tasty but with a twist, like Chicken and Dumplings reinvented into a sage-chicken salad with fried dumpling crackers. Or explore an area of the South in Southern Bound where we visit places like Atlanta's Buford Highway, attend a hog roast in North Carolina, or stuff ourselves at the Pepperoni Festival in Morgantown, West Virginia.

This is just a teaser of what 2021 has in store! We can't wait to share all of the wonderful content we have planned for the year, and we hope to have you with

Daniel

Editor, Taste of the South

Taste of the South was crafted to allow readers to slow down, unplug, and escape without distraction. Turning the pages is an experience readers can feel in the weight and texture of the paper in their hands, taste in the mouthwatering recipes, and see in the compelling images and clean design.

Southern Gates Jewelry | Tree of Life

Inspired by historic wrought iron gates throughout the South, this intricately crafted silver Tree of Life pendant celebrates Southern style and tradition. An iconic symbol of strength, family, and longevity, this special sterling silver piece reminds us of massive, shady oak trees we climbed and poked under as children, making it the perfect accessory for anyone with Southern roots. Designed in historic Charleston, South Carolina, this pendant is best paired with the Rice Bead chain.
